

	SAFEGUARDING POLICY/CODE OF PRACTICE	Number:

Aim

The College is committed to providing a safe environment for all adults at risk¹ and children². The College may encounter adults at risk and children through its teaching, research, outreach, access or other activities. The College cannot act 'in loco parentis' and ultimate responsibility for children rests with those who have parental responsibility. This Code of Practice seeks to support activities involving adults at risk and children, and to offer assurances to staff, students, volunteers and visitors that safeguarding will be dealt with effectively and in a timely manner.

The College has a designated Safeguarding Lead (the Domestic Bursar) and a designated Safeguarding Coordinator (the Outreach Officer and Admissions Administrator) who will work with other agencies where appropriate to achieve its aims. A full breakdown of the responsibilities and contact details of the Safeguarding Coordinator and Safeguarding Lead can be found in annex A.

This Code of Practice should be read in conjunction with other College and University of Oxford policies referred to within this Code of Practice, or listed below.

Policy

Any member of the College who has responsibility for organising an activity involving adults at risk or children must nominate an individual to act as the designated safeguarding lead for the activity. In the case of Corpus Christi College outreach activity, this will usually be the Safeguarding Coordinator (the Outreach Officer and Admissions Administrator), with support from the Safeguarding Lead (the Domestic Bursar).

Activities run by the college should:

- be designed so that appropriate training and supervision is available to those working with adults at risk or children;
- minimise occasions on which members of the College will need to work alone in an unsupervised way with adults at risk or children; and
- be appropriately risk assessed.

Every activity run by the college which involves adults at risk or children should be risk assessed and the assessment should consider how the risks identified can be minimised and should also outline the local processes for reporting concerns, as well as taking account of Health and Safety considerations. Training requirements and records of training undertaken should be recorded in the risk assessment.

Completed risk assessments should then be made available to all visitors, staff or volunteers involved in the activity.

Guidance on health and safety for young people can be found on the University Safety Office website: www.admin.ox.ac.uk/safety/policy-statements/upss113/

Any pre-employment or pre-activity checks should be carried out in accordance with the University's guidance (www.admin.ox.ac.uk/personnel/recruit/preempcheck/)

¹ Defined by the Department of Health as "those who are or may be in need of community care services by reason of mental or other disability, age or illness; and who is or may be unable to take care of him or herself, or unable to protect him or herself against significant harm or exploitation". The term 'adult at risk' has been used in place of the term 'vulnerable adult'. This is because the term 'vulnerable adult' may wrongly imply that some of the fault for the abuse lies with the adult abused. The term 'adult at risk' is used as an exact replacement for 'vulnerable adult', as used throughout existing government guidance to local authorities.

² A 'child' is any person under the age of 18; 'children' are to be construed accordingly. Particular care shall be afforded to a child under the age of 16.

Adults at risk and children who are participating in a College activity must, as part of their induction to the activity, be given clear information about how, and to whom, they can report concerns about any member of the College or University with whom they will be interacting. The contact details of the Safeguarding Lead and the designated Safeguarding Coordinator for the activity should be given.

Activities run by external groups staying at the college (for example summer schools) are expected to have their own safeguarding leads and procedures, but should be provided with relevant local/university safeguarding contact details and/or the generic College visits Risk Assessment if requested.

3. Training

Any member of the College who will be planning activities with children should have completed the online introduction to Safeguarding training provided by Oxford Safeguarding Children Board, together with any additional training that may have been identified by the risk assessment process, as per the guidance below.

As of October 2017, the appropriate courses are as follows:

- For all members of College who come into contact with children in any sustained capacity as part of their work or activities: 'An Introduction to Safeguarding' e-training (Level 1), completed online and refreshed every 3 years.
 - This may apply to, for example, the Outreach Officer and Admissions Administrator and Student Ambassadors. It could also be considered to apply to Peer Supporters and Junior Deans/Wardens (in relation to under-age undergraduates) or to department heads (in relation to apprentices or interns)
- For the College's Safeguarding Lead and Coordinator(s): the above training and 'Generalist Safeguarding Training (Level 2), to be refreshed every 2 years.
- For those involved in regulated activity with children or young people (regulated activity is defined as regular unsupervised contact with children i.e. 3 or more times in a 30 day period): additional training should be provided by a member of staff who has undergone the above training and 'Generalist safeguarding training' (Level 2,) i.e. the Safeguarding Lead or Coordinator).
 - Those who may undergo this training may be, for example, Science Residential student mentors and ambassadors during the Interview Period.
- For any member of college working with adults at risk: 'Safeguarding adults' (Level 1), completed online. [This is unlikely to occur in a College context]

Activity organisers may wish to arrange additional training as and when they or their supervisors feel it is appropriate.

Training should be recorded and monitored by the Safeguarding Coordinator.

Lodge staff, catering staff and scouts, due to the nature of their roles, are not expected to undergo training as their contact with adults at risk or children does not extend to running activities or sustained/significant levels of engagement.

Where possible, when children or adults at risk are staying in College accommodation for residential visits or events, Scouts should aim to clean rooms while the children/adults at risk are not present in the room.

4. Dealing with suspicions or allegations of abuse

Those working with children and adults at risk may:

- have alleged abuse disclosed to them;

- suspect abuse is being carried out; or
 - be accused of abusing those in their charge.

Whilst these issues may require very different courses of action, it is essential that the safety and welfare of the child or adult at risk is prioritised. The risk assessment for any activity involving adults at risk or children should identify at least one individual who will act as the key contact point to deal with such matters, usually the Safeguarding Coordinator. The Safeguarding Coordinator is responsible for nominating deputies to ensure that a nominated individual is available during normal working hours, to ensure that all allegations can be dealt with without delay.

Any allegations or suspicions of abuse must be reported without delay to the nominated safeguarding contact for the activity is responsible for ensuring that concerns and allegations are escalated to the appropriate senior members of the College and to the University Safeguarding Officers, if appropriate, without delay. Allegations against or abuse involving a Fellow or member of staff or student should be reported directly to the Safeguarding Lead and may also need to be reported to the HR Manager or Harassment Advisors, who may provide support during any investigation.

Where both groups may be involved the Safeguarding Officer will decide the most appropriate response.

Any allegations or suspicions of abuse must be reported without delay to a relevant person, as listed below, who must then take prompt action.

- Where an adult at risk or child discloses alleged abuse, or a member of the College suspects abuse, this should be relayed to the Safeguarding Officer who will refer to the Safeguarding Lead. The Lead will assess and, where appropriate, contact the relevant statutory agency for advice.
- In the event that an allegation is made against College Fellows, staff, students, volunteers, or academic visitors this must be referred to the Safeguarding Lead who will assess and, where appropriate in cases involving children, refer the matter to the Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub. This referral must be made within one working day of the allegations being made. The Local Area Designated Officer will advise on the appropriate action to be taken. In cases involving adults at risk of harm, referral will be made to the relevant statutory agency.
- In the event there is a risk of immediate serious harm to a child or an adult at risk the emergency services should be contacted via 999 or the police via the 101 service. Anybody can make a referral in these circumstances. The Safeguarding Officer and designated safeguarding lead for the particular activity should then be notified of the case.

The Safeguarding Lead will share information as appropriate with relevant colleagues to ensure that the relevant authorities both within and outside of the College are involved and that any necessary processes can be followed (for example, depending on the nature of the allegations, it may be necessary to make a disclosure to the Disclosure and Barring Service.)

Appropriate records will be retained in accordance with the College's and the University's Data Protection Policies. Where the matter may relate to both Fellows/staff and students, the Safeguarding Officer will agree on where the file will be kept.

2. Students under the age of 18

2.1 The College may admit students who commence their studies before their 18th birthday. The College recognises that:

- Anyone under the age of 18, as a matter of law is a child;
- The College has special duties of care towards a child;
- The College is not in loco parentis

2.2 The Academic Registrar is responsible for ensuring that following persons are informed before the start of term of the admission of any students under the age of 18
